

CONTENTS

Introduction	7
Serge LEMAITRE
On the ban of re-enactment and computer animation: An evaluation of the German archaeology film of the last 30 years	11
Tom STERN and Thomas TODE
Making the Most of the Medium of Film to Create Alternative Narratives about the Past and its Investigation	21
Ruth TRINGHAM
Bonekickers: informing, educating, entertaining ?	31
Greg BAILEY, Don HENSON and Angela PICCINI
The Value of Television: A Critical Approach	45
Faye SIMPSON
Margaret Rule's the Waves: 1980's British Media Ideology, Archaeology, and Britannia'	53
Joel SPERRY
"Popularization" of archaeology in the Argentinian newspaper: social representation and education	61
Virginia SALERNO
Archaeology threatens the world! Representations of archaeologists in cinema	71
Peter HISCOCK
The Holmes Stretch (or There's No Place Like Holmes)	81
Easton J. ANSPACH
De l'archéologie expérimentale à l'histoire vivante : un exemple de médiation culturelle	91
Damien GLAD
The Mysterious Bog People : archaeology, suspense and forensic fiction	99
Valérie MORISSON
Bones and disease in the British media	113
Victoria PARK
Une machine à remonter le temps : l'archéologie entre science et fiction	123
Danièle ALEXANDRE-BIDON
Quelques mots pour conclure...	141
Céline SCHALL	